Last Tuesday, we had the pleasure of joining Manitou Group in celebrating their expansion & investment in Yankton with a ribbon cutting.

Our CEO, Nancy Wenande joined International Manitou Leadership, Mayor Mason Schramm, Commissioner Joe Fiala, & Plant Manager Greg Huus in speaking on the facility expansion, Manitou Group's investment in Yankton, & the work that went in to making the expansion possible.

Thank you to City of Yankton–Municipal Government, South Dakota Governor's Office of Economic Development, South Dakota Department of Transportation, South Dakota Department of Labor and Regulation, & everyone who played a role in getting this project across the finish line. Thank you to Manitou Group for your confidence & trust in the Yankton facility. Thank you to the great employees doing amazing work at Manitou/Gehl Yankton.

Yankton Thrive recently hosted a special Coffee & Conversations focused on South Dakota's Initiated Measure 28 (IM-28), which addresses the state's tax on food. The discussion featured Rick Weiland, sponsor of the measure, and Nathan Sanderson, executive director of the South Dakota Retailers Association, who spoke in opposition.

Attendees learned about both perspectives on the proposal, which seeks to reform or repeal the tax, and gained valuable insights on its potential impact on local households and businesses. It was a productive forum that encouraged informed decision-making ahead of the vote.

The Yankton 101 program kicked off last week with the Safety session! Our group toured the Federal Prison Camp and Yankton County Jail, and heard from the Yankton Fire Department, Yankton County EMS, and the Yankton Police Department. It was a fun and informative afternoon. We look forward to the second session this Thursday!
