We're excited you've chosen Yankton as your home!

As the first territorial capitol of the Dakotas, Yankton has a can-do attitude that contributes to our community's continuing growth.

The Missouri River brought our first residents to settle this area and has been a constant in our region's economy and rich outdoor recreation.

Our river city is a hub for agriculture, healthcare & social services, manufacturing, education and finance.

💡 Recreational activities play a major role in my life - I enjoy camping and spending time on the water during the summer months followed by a good bonfire to end the night. 💡

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture, including crop and animal production, is obviously one of the original industries in the community and continues to account for a significant amount of economic impact.

MANUFACTURING

The manufacturing industry in Yankton is booming and accounts for a large percentage of jobs in the community. The clients are worldwide and the equipment and parts built here are top of the line. A piece of the Mars Rover was made by a company headquartered in Yankton!

HEALTHCARE & SOCIAL SERVICES

Yankton is a regional health care center. It has the state's largest independently-owned medical clinic, Yankton Medical Clinic, P.C., and is home to Avera Sacred Heart Hospital, a 144-bed Level V Trauma Center. Yankton is also home to the state's behavioral health hospital, South Dakota Human Services Center. There are many other health care and social service locations throughout the community as well, making health care one of the top employers in the region.

EDUCATION

Educational services account for the largest growth in jobs over the past year. Yankton's public and private schools provide education from pre-school through 12th grade. Yankton is also home to Mount Marty University, a four-year liberal arts and sciences college in the Benedictine Tradition. Another educational option is the Regional Technical and Education Center (RTEC), which provides hands-on training education, and certification for local workforce.

FINANCE

With a variety of financial and insurance institutions in Yankton, you are sure to find a good fit for your business or personal needs.

 FRESH PRODUCE

A Thriving COMMUNITY

CONNECTING CULTURES

"Connecting Cultures was established in Yankton in 2017. Our mission is to create connections that cultivate a community that celebrates cultural diversity. Yankton is a growing place and we want everyone to feel welcomed into the community and for Yankton to be a place where all can thrive. If you are part of a culture that you would like to educate the community about; or you would like to connect us to current events, or even if you just want to make connections, and participate in vibrant community events and perspective-expanding conversations, reach out to us on Facebook, Connecting Cultures Yankton!"

Sarah Brandt
Connecting Cultures President

CHURCHES

There are more than 30 places of worship in the Yankton area. The faith community in Yankton is diverse and always growing. Joining a religious institution is a great way to meet new friends with shared values and get connected to resources and information.

GOVERNMENT & LAW ENFORCEMENT

Yankton has always been a safe, low-crime city. We are fortunate to have progressive, community-based law enforcement agencies. Yankton's Emergency Medical Services, Fire Department and First Responders are also second to none.

Ready For The Future

Yankton, one of South Dakota's historic cities, is a welcoming community for visitors and residents alike. Community leaders embrace the past, but with a keen eye to the future.

Amy Leon, Yankton's City Manager for the past 10 years, agrees with that sentiment, "What really excites me most about Yankton is how we've positioned ourselves for the future," she said. "When you talk about cities that are ready for the future, Yankton is one of them.

"I think what we've done well as a city is plan for the future and look at projects long term," Leon continued. "With the new water treatment plant, Yankton won't have to worry about its water supply for any of our lifetimes. We even have capacity to help other communities if necessary."

So many parts of our community stand out. For example, our beautiful and abundant parks and trails system come to mind. But, there are so many aspects that many of us may take for granted.

"A lot of people probably don't think about the streets they drive on, or water and sewer," Leon said. "But those are foundational to what a strong community looks like. Or when I think about all the people involved in public safety – our law enforcement, our volunteer firefighters and emergency medical services – these are people who care deeply about the community. They live and work with us. They are our neighbors. I really think that is sort of unique in this day and age. Yankton has built a lot of social capital."

The City of Yankton continues to thrive because citizens and local businesses invest for the success.

RENTING

Yankton's rental scene is quite diverse. The Rental Guide will show options for all income levels.

BUILDING

Selecting the right builder is a key step in creating your dream home. The Lewis & Clark Home Builders Association is the right place to start. They can provide you with a list of builders, landscapers, realtors and financial institutions in your area.

Moving TIPS & TRICKS

01

MOVERS & BREAKABLES

Instead of asking your friends do the heavy lifting, consider hiring movers to handle the large boxes and furniture. After that, order a little pizza and beer, turn on some entertainment and have your friends help unload some of those boxes.

Many people are concerned about their breakable and fragile possessions. Simply pack up a box or two of the expensive breakables and move them yourself.

PRIORITIES & ESSENTIALS

As you're packing all your belongings for the move, make sure to pack a simple suitcase and toiletry bag as if you were going on a weekend trip. Your new home may be a little messy for a while, but you'll be ready for the day with your essentials.

Pack boxes of items that you will need immediately and mark them, "Unpack First". This usually includes cleaning supplies, paper towels, disposable plates and utensils, bottled water, and anything else you anticipate needing right away.

COORDINATION & LABELING

When packing, try to coordinate with where you think everything will be once you move in. Box things from the same areas together if possible.

Label the contents and destination room for each box. This helps the movers and will definitely help your sanity as you begin the unpacking process.

REAL ESTATE

Yankton boasts many unique neighborhoods and environments for you to choose for your home.

Whether you're looking to build, live on the water, live in an established neighborhood or in a newer neighborhood, this region really has it all.

The Meridian Association of Realtors is the collection of local realtors that serve the Yankton region. These local realtors are your best experts at helping you fill your wants and needs.

SCHOOLS & CHILD CARE

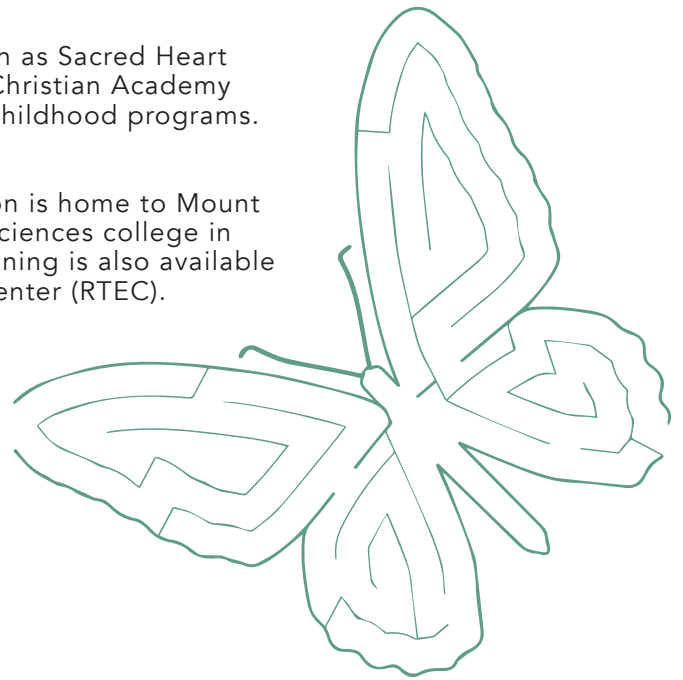

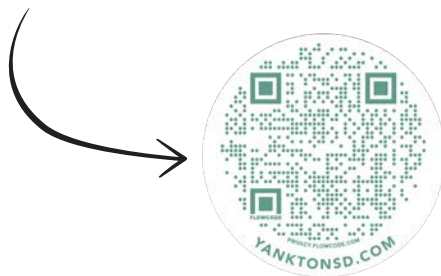

The Yankton School District is home to an average of 2,800 students.

Yankton Public School District has four elementary schools, a 6th-8th-grade middle school and Yankton High School. YSD is annually one of the best rated school districts in the state and has a 99% graduation rate.

There are a number of private schools, such as Sacred Heart (pre-school to 8th grade), Missouri Valley Christian Academy (K-8th), church-led pre-schools, and early childhood programs. Homeschooling is also an option here.

When it comes to higher education, Yankton is home to Mount Marty University, a 4-year liberal arts and sciences college in the Benedictine Tradition. Skilled labor training is also available at the Regional Technical and Education Center (RTEC).

Fall & Winter ACTIVITIES

What's there to do in Yankton?

- We are located on the Missouri River flyway; great for waterfowl
- Popular species to hunt: pheasants, white tail deer, wild turkey, dove, quail, partridge, ducks, & geese
- As the water turns over, the bite for walleye and smallmouth bass can produce many quality fish on Lewis and Clark Lake
- Ice fishing on Lake Yankton is great for perch and crappie
- Fall colors at Lewis and Clark Recreation area and all along the Missouri National Recreation River
- There are many beautiful areas for cross country skiing and snowshoeing at Lewis and Clark Rec Area
- January is a magical time below Gavin's Point Dam; many bald eagles descend upon the dam for the open water fishing it provides

“ One of the best things about Yankton is our recreational opportunities. I am out in nature all year long doing anything from snow shoeing in the winter to jogging next to the lake in the summer. ”

NIGHTLIFE

Yankton is lucky to have an array of local musicians performing on the weekends. They might be at one of our local breweries or the many other venues throughout the community and lake area.

SHOPPING

Yankton is a regional shopping hub for the necessities, boutiques, & specialty shops.

DINING

Yankton has an amazing collection of great dining establishments with a variety of ethnic food choices. Yankton also has a wide array of local food trucks that typically are serving throughout the year.

SPORTS

Some Yankton area bars and nightclubs have been adding games for their guests. The Boat House has axe throwing, mini bowling and more. Ben's Brew Station has added a ping pong table to its wall of pinball machines and an indoor bocce ball court. Other activities are available throughout the community such as: ice skating, hockey, archery, air rifle, bowling, several fitness facilities and gym space at Mount Marty University and the Summit Activities Center. Indoor pickleball courts are also available at City Hall and at the Archery Center.
